- Rich supply of essential vitamins and minerals
- A cure against all kinds of autoimmune disorders including rheumatoid arthritis, lupus, multiple sclerosis, fibromyalgia and a dozen more
- Essential nutrients that facilitates hair re-growth

What are the Contents of Biotone?

That is what Biotone offers you. It is an Ayurvedic preparation. The main ingredients are three dry fruits – Emblica officinalis, Terminalia chebula and Terminalia belerica. In addition, it also has Arthrospira platensis, a blue-green algae of superior food quality, known for its abundant supply of micronutrients.

The dry fruits are known for their components. Emblica officinalis (Amalaki in Hindi and Gooseberry in English) is the richest source of vitamin C. You can't lose this vitamin with cooking. It also has supply of zinc, ferrous iron and other trace minerals. Terminalia chebula is known for its soothing effect on stomach and normalization of digestion. Terminalia belerica is a good source of soluble dietary fibre and antioxidants. It also facilitates good, normal sleep.

When combined for an Ayurvedic herbal food supplement, they form a potent combination. Every capsule is a rich source of carotenes, vitamins, and anti oxidants. The antioxidants protect your cell from destruction due to oxidation action due to free radicals. The Gamma Linolenic Acid (GLA) and Superoxide dysmutase (SOD) protect nervous tissue. The vitamins protect inner tissues and cardiovascular system. The essential amino acids and Omega 3 & 6 fatty acids protect and repair cell membranes.

Thus, the effects of Biotone are manifold. The effects include:

- Better sleep
- Normal skin tone with freedom from eczema, dry skin, acne and pimples
- Immunity
- Anti aging
- Rich supply of vitamins and minerals
- Prevention of autoimmune disorders of all kinds
- Hair re-growth/prevention of hair fall
